I'm fine to return whenever! Appreciate you letting me know.

Also, when you have some time I would like to chat with you about what I will need to pay for myself since I'm going out a few days before the Administrator. He told me that I would be attending events that were on his calendar in his place, but I understand that there is some confusion as to whether or not the government pays for my hotel on the day that I'll be attending those events. I just want to make sure I'm doing everything by the book.

Thanks, Mark!

Thanks Sarah. Also, the assumption from the third floor was that you and I would return to the U.S. on the same day that the Administrator does.

Samantha and Jane will have to stay behind for the final sessions of the G-7. That would have the two of us returning on Monday, June 12th, or on Sunday, June 11th if the White House event remains on the schedule. This is what I had been told, but I am not sure whether this had been run by you or not, so I wanted to share so you can change your flights if appropriate.

Mark

P.S. Ryan is now joining the mission as well.

Dear Italy Travelers,

Please confirm the flights you are arriving in Rome on and departing Bologna on by 4:30pm TODAY. We are aware that the Administrator may depart for Rome on an earlier flight if possible and that everyone accompanying him would change to that flight. We are also aware that the Administrator may have to depart Bologna/Milan one day earlier and that means some of the rest of us may depart one day earlier as well. For this exercise, we are planning for the latest he would stay. Only security staff are expected to accompany the Administrator through Milan. Everyone else is expected to fly out of Bologna.

Thank you for your cooperation, Mark
